The Social Circle

Friday night, Feb. 21st, the Social Circle met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Wright. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Todd being unable to entertain this week, Mr. and Mrs. Wright were host and hostess. Since it was the eighth wedding anniversary of this worthy couple, made it quite appropriate to gather with them. The forepart of the evening was spent at the usual five hundred, after which the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Lawrence, served refreshments.

Dancing and various games then ensued until the wee sma' hours of the morning. A few of the regular number were missing (too much bonspiel.) All present report a most enjoyable time.

A Reply to Mr. Marcy

I have been asked by the Sounding Creek Council to reply to Mr. Marcy's article in THE ADVANCE of Feb. 13th and to correct some of the mis-statements it contained.

For instance, Mr. Marcy argues that the council should hand out seed to every applicant on the ground that the security is absolute, stating that "seed grain liens come before a first mortgage." Now this is absolutely incorrect as the Council have been aware for some time; and if anyone had any doubts on the matter it was emphatically settled by the statements of both the Minister and Deputy Minister at the recent Municipal Convention that seed grain liens have no priority over first mortgages but must take their chance with other encumbrances in order of registration.

In addition to this the Council have found by past experience that the majority of men who apply for Seed Grain Relief are precisely the men who are poor credit risks personally. When you add these two considerations together, anyone can see that the security is far from absolute, and is in general rather shaky and largely dependent on the current year's crop. The Council, selected to represent the people and handling the people's money, consider that all applications for relief should be scanned with a jealous eye, and only granted when the need is undoubted and the security reasonably good.

The Council did, however, consider it their duty to see that a supply of good seed oats should be available for Spring seeding in this district, as practically none fit for seed were produced here last year. They considered, however, that the credit should be supplied for the most part, through the regular financial channels. They have endeavored to procure seed as cheaply as possible, but have considered quality of much greater importance. Wild Oats are dear at any price. They have considered the Government price high, but until very recently it has been impossible to procure oats fit for seed elsewhere. The main reason for the high price seems to be, that the Government, profiting by past experience, have thoroughly cleaned out all the light stuff and weed seeds, and have not allowed anything to grade No. 1 which contained more than one wild oat to the pound. This seed is being sold on an absolute guarantee as to weed seeds and germination.

The Council have investigated several stories of cheap seed in various quarters and have almost invariably found them incorrect or else the grain was only feed.

They have examined a great many samples, including the 85c oats to which Mr. Marcy refers, which last were full of wild oats, and absolutely unfit for seed. They have, however, recently purchased two cars of Cheadle Victory Oats from the National Elevator Co., at a price of $1.05 F.O.B. These have a fairly high germination test and are good-looking seed. They contain some chaff and light stuff but practically no wild oats. There will be no handling charges unless they are put through the elevator, which will mean two cents per bush extra. The main objection to these oats is that they are sold merely by sample and carry no guarantee.

Thus the council have four cars of oats, on order—two cars of No. 1 gov't seed and two other cars, with a split of about ten cents per bushel. The price of gov't oats is $1.15½, and not $1.25 or $1.35 as variously stated in Mr. Marcy's article. If the ratepayer who figures on buying seed from the Municipality will get his order in at once, either to the sec-treas, or his councillor he will materially assist the council in handling the seed grain situation in an efficient and economical manner.

Labor Unrest in Canada

It is worse than useless to attempt to ignore the fact that much unrest exists in Canada in the ranks of labor. It would, indeed, be the height of foolishness to close our eyes to the self-evident fact that such unrest is prevalent in many quarters. Rather, it is the part of wisdom to squarely face the fact and turn attention to the consideration and bringing into effect of measures designed to settle that unrest. Ignoring it, and failing to provide a remedy, will lead to trouble and invite disaster.

Canada has not been confronted with great strikes such as swept over the British Isles and occurred in many centers in the United States, but even these great industrial upheavals, which mean loss not only to both employer and employee but to the nation at large, may result in Canada unless great care is exercised and all classes in the community are prepared to adopt a "give and take" policy and meet each other in a spirit of conciliation and prepared to accept fair and just compromises.

Whatever may have been the attitude of capital and employers in the past, there can be little doubt that one of the outcomes of the Great War has been a recognition on their part that in the new order of things that must in future prevail, the man who toils with hand and brain, who is one great asset in the world of business is his strength and ability to work, must receive adequate compensation, and must be accorded proper working conditions, including reasonable hours of labor, provision against sickness and old age, and better living conditions for his family.

These things the average employer of labor in Canada is ready to do. In fact, only a negligible number of employers will be found who do not believe that these things are not only just and necessary, but that they will redound to his advantage as well as to the advantage, comfort and welfare of the workers he employs. Practically all employers are ready to treat their employees fairly, and are willing to meet with their employees and discuss all these problems with them. All that is necessary is for the men, their own employees, to approach them in a spirit of co-operation and not in a spirit of antagonism.

What the average employer yearns more than anything else is the interference of outsiders, the bringing in of paid organizers and agitators, often without any real knowledge of actual conditions and the problems which call for solution, but whose business in life seems largely to be to create trouble. If local labor organizations, and the employees in any given industry, would learn to handle their own affairs and appeal to their employers as first hand for adjustment of their grievances they would, in the vast majority of cases, get quicker and more satisfactory results.

Why should the intelligent labor men of Canada contribute what amounts in the aggregate every year to an enormous sum from their wages for the maintenance of a small army of organizers and professional agitators to direct the affairs, and who, too frequently, incite them to unwise action and lead them astray. Frequently, these organizers in their ignorance of local conditions insist on imposing demands and trouble results. In an even larger number of instances, they are not so much concerned about the local situation, but are using it merely as a lever, regardless of the true interests of the local worker, to create a situation to their liking which they can use as a club in some other part of Canada or in another country.

The best solution of labor unrest in Canada, the best preventative of strike troubles which mean loss for all concerned, lies in the development of direct negotiation between an employer and his own employees, or local groups of employers and local groups of employees, without the interference of outsiders. Such action would quickly develop a new and better spirit of co-operation and mutual goodwill. It would mean a tremendous saving of money to the workers, and would give them an independence and a dignity which they have largely lost through the reliance upon and subservience to the paid organizers they maintain and the professional agitators who live upon their hard won earnings.

In this new age, is not this new method worthy of a trial in progressive Canada?

WINTER HARD ON BABY

The winter season is a hard one on the baby. He is more or less confined to stuffy, badly ventilated rooms. It is so often true that the mother does not get him out in the fresh air as often as she should. He catches colds which rack his little system, his stomach and bowels get out of order and he becomes sick and cross. To guard against this the mother should keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. They regulate the stomach and bowels and break up colds. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Canadian Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Bitterly Resent

Latest Armistice

Conditions Will Throw German Generals Out of Work
London.—Advices received from Berlin by way of Basle are to the effect that the Pan-German military party, headed by Field Marshal von Hindenburg, bitterly resents the new clauses in the armistice, especially those limiting the German army to the size of a simple police force, the supervision of control or ammunition factories and the demand that German pay the expenses of the allied armies of occupation on the Rhine. These conditions, it is complained, will throw out of work thousands of German officers, from general down to private, while the army of 600,000 volunteers, reported by the German press to have been organized, must be disbanded.

The advices add that indignation against Matthias Erzberger on the part of the military authorities is increasing.

Needs Allied Help

Washington.—Roger E. SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR MARCH 2.—THE REPORT OF THE SPIES

1. The Spies Sent Out (13:17-20).
Less than two years have passed since the Israelites were delivered from Egyptian bondage. They are now at Kadesh-Barnea, within sight of the promised land. Moses urges them to go in and take immediate possession (Deut. 1:21) but they fail because of their unbelief (Heb. 3:19).
There was a threefold purpose in sending out the spies: (1) to see whether the land was as God had told them (v. 18); (2) to see whether the people who dwell there were strong or weak, few or many (v. 18); (3) to see whether the cities were made up of strongholds or tents (v. 19). What folly! If God has spoken to question his word is simply unbelief.

2. The Commission Executed (13:21-25).
They entered the land from the south and traversed it to its northern limits. They spent forty days in this investigating exploration. It is a sad comment upon human nature when men must spend forty days in finding out the truthfulness of God's word. On their return from the north they gathered some specimens of the fruit of the land. Two of them, perhaps Caleb and Joshua, bore a cluster of grapes upon a staff between them as a witness that God had spoken the truth about the land.

3. The Spies Rendered a Report (13:26-33).
On their return this committee of explorers rendered a report to the whole congregation. It was not unanimous.

1. The majority report (v. 26-29).
(1) "The land, floweth with milk and honey" (v. 27). As a proof of it they exhibited the fruit. They all bore witness that this was in accordance with what God had said. (2) "The people who live there are strong" (v. 28). They seemed to stress this fact, unbelievably dwelt mainly upon difficulties. (3) "The people live in mountain cities" (v. 28). They argued that it was impossible to capture them in such sure defenses. (4) "The land was inhabited by giants" (v. 28 cf. v. 33). They saw themselves as grasshoppers. Furthermore, they saw the people so distributed—the Amalekites in the south country, the Hittites, Jebusites and Amorites in the mountains and the Canaanites along the sea—that it was impossible to take them. This, no doubt, seemed reasonable from the human side, but they displayed their folly in that they left God out of the question. The same God who said to them, "Go, possess the land," would go along to fight the battle.

2. The minority report (v. 30-33).
In part, this report agrees with the first; it does not ignore the difficulties, nor dispute the facts. It denies the conclusion of the majority. They did not minimize the task before them, but asserted that with God's help they were well able to get possession of land, and urged immediate action. The ten had their eyes on the difficulties, but Caleb and Joshua fixed their eyes upon God. Caleb lived to see his suggestion made real. The decisions of the majority are not always right. Just two men against many thousands, but the thousands were wrong and the two were right. It is not always true that the "voice of the people is the voice of God."

4. The Rebellion of the People (14:1-38).
This rebellion began by crying. Having left God out of the question they now wept and howl. This weeping and howling was followed by murmuring against Moses and Aaron. They even wished that they had died in the wilderness or in Egypt. God took them at their word; he sent them back to wander in the wilderness for thirty-eight years, during which time they all died except Caleb and Joshua. This was followed by a proposition to organize for the return to Egypt. They proposed to select a captain as their leader. The protest of Joshua and Caleb against this return in the proposition to stone them. At this point God interposed in their behalf. He manifested his glory before all the children of Israel in vindication of the loyalty of Joshua and Caleb.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Off Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to lift out five feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug, freezone, is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the freezone medicine like Dr. Hamilton's Pills is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

Germans Wanted To Reject Terms

After Consultation with Party Leaders, Decision Was Changed

Weimar.—The German cabinet voted to reject the allied terms for the renewal of the armistice and take chances of an allied military advance being ordered. After consultation with the party leaders, however, the decision was changed, and orders were issued that the armistice be signed.

London.—The terms of the new military treaty to be imposed on Germany in lieu of the monthly armistice, and as a part of the final peace conditions, according to the Daily Mail's Paris correspondent, include in addition to the destruction of the fortifications of Heligoland and the Kiel Canal and the immediate surrender of certain warships which have not yet been given up, as required, and the conversion of the status of the German fleet in the Scapa Flow from that of internment to surrender.

It may be taken, the correspondent adds, that these surrendered ships eventually will be destroyed, the idea of dividing them among the allies having been abandoned.

TELLS DYSPPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic dyspepsia is exceedingly dangerous and leads to either one of two things. Either they can go on a limited and often unpalatable diet, or they can do without it, and avoid food that disagrees with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a purpose to counteract the effect of the harmful acids by the formation of gentleness, or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarck Magnesia at their meals. There is probably no better, safer or more effective remedy than this. This remedy is the whole cause of the trouble and the need of natural and healthy means of getting rid of it. It is widely used for this purpose. It is not a detergent. But a teaspoonful of powder or a couple of fine grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent a further formation. MONEY TO LOAN

Oslar, Hammond and Nanton, general agents for North of Scotland and other Mortgage Companies have $30,000,000 invested in farm loans in the West, the returns from which they re-invest in the same way.
They have lots of money now. Their inspector, Mr. Sichel, who was in the district a few days ago, says
"They have barrels of money, and that no good loan will be refused."
Let them renew the loan you have on your homestead, and give you more on your pre-emption, give you money to prove it up if you wish.
Or let them give you a new loan, as large, and probably larger, than you can get elsewhere. The district needs all the money we can get hold of in this way. Pay up your indebtedness to the bank, to the municipality, to the school, and to others. We can furnish the money. Loans for five years, repayable in three years, without extra charge. Interest at 8 per cent.—nothing but the interest to pay each year.

Make The Returning Soldier Welcome

THIS is an important hour for Canada. The nation is entering on a new era. It is passing from war to peace. Let us start this new era right.
There are thousands of soldiers returning from overseas. The Government is doing all in its power to get these men back to civil life.

It is giving a War Service Gratuity—more than any other nation—to keep the soldier going till he gets a job.

It gives him a pension—where his usefulness is impaired by his service.

It teaches a man a new trade when his service unfits him for his former trade.

It gives him free medical treatment when illness recurs, and supplies free artificial limbs and surgical appliances.

It is bringing back to Canada at the public expense the soldiers' dependents now overseas.

But the Government, however willing, cannot provide the personal touch needed in this work of repatriation.
That must be given by the people themselves.

The men who went from these parts to fight in Flanders deserve a real welcome home—the best we can give.

In most towns committees of citizens have already been organized to meet the soldiers and their dependents at the station, to provide hot meals, supply automobiles, afford temporary accommodation
when necessary.

In addition, many other towns are organizing social gatherings to give public welcome to returned men after they have been home a few days.

After he has rested, the soldier must be provided with an opportunity for employment. In towns of 10,000 population, Public Employment Offices have been established to help soldiers, as well as war-workers, secure good jobs quickly. Where these exist, citizens should co-operate. Where they do not exist, the citizens themselves should help put the soldier in touch with employment.

The fighting job is done. It has cost many a heart-burning. But it has been well done. The least we can do is to show our appreciation in no uncertain manner.

Don't let the welcome die away with the cheers.

Hun Demobilization Almost Completed

London. — The demobilization of Germany's old army is almost completed, according to authoritative information here. After Saturday when the 1916 and 1917 classes will be disbanded the German army will consist of about 100,000 men on the eastern front, and the 1918 and 1919 classes, numbering about 450,000 men which will be kept as a standing army.

Efforts of the German authorities to recruit volunteers for the army have been unproductive, but the official view here is that they may be more successful later. Men who have been in the army four years have no great desire to continue in the fighting force, but it is expected that they will find civil life in Germany less attractive than the army, and therefore, probably will be willing to enlist later.

The British general staff does not view as dangerous the possibility of Germany making a military effort, but is taking full cognizance of the situation which the staff believes exists. It is pointed out that the German general staff still is in existence, and that doubtless much artillery is still in hand. The Germans, it is believed, could get plenty of men quickly if necessary, but the problem of stores would forestall any quick ambitions or attempts to renew the fighting.

Canada's Exhibit At Lyons Fair

Seventy Booths Will Be Occupied by Canadian Producers

Paris. — Preparations are now well advanced for adequate representation of Canada at the Lyons fair, which opens on March 1, and lasts for fifteen days. This is the trade fair organized early in the war to supplant the great fair formerly held at Leipzig, which latter was always largely attended, and at which sales to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars were made.

For the coming fair, the Department of Trade and Commerce, has made extensive arrangements, and exhibits of the various products of Canada will be made in a considerable scale.

Though this is not in strict conformity with the plan of the fair, which aims at grouping exhibits by class, the Canadian authorities have succeeded in having all exhibits from the Dominion massed in a group, thus securing a much more impressive showing than would otherwise be possible.

The government itself is making sample exhibits of agricultural, fishing, mining, and forestry products. The "three great Canadian railways" systems will also be represented by attractive exhibits. In addition to these, others will be some seventy booths which will be occupied by Canadian producers, or their representatives, with samples of goods and catalogues. Interpreters will be provided to facilitate the exchange of business.

Chinese Attitude

Cabinet Approves of Agreement With Japan's Wishes

Peking. — President Hsu Shih Chang has taken a firm stand in the controversy which has arisen between the Chinese and Japanese governments regarding the action of the Chinese delegates at the peace conference in Paris. He is entirely out of agreement with the desires of the Japanese that the Chinese peace delegates to the conference be restrained in their activities.

This attitude of the president has strongly endorsed throughout China and elicited the unanimous approval of the northern and southern internal peace delegates who are assembling to arrange a settlement and a reunion.

The Chinese cabinet as a whole approves of an agreement with Japan's wishes, but the president is unyielding and is supported by the premier

Rumanian Revolt Has Not Been Confirmed

Legation Knows Nothing of Any Outbreak

London. — Reports of a rebellion in Rumania have been current nearly a month with varying details, but all have emanated from Germany or Austrian sources and have not been confirmed by advice from disinterested points.

The Rumanian legation here knows nothing of any outbreak and does not attach any importance to reports received from Berlin.

The legation, however, says that it has known for many months that German and Russian Bolsheviks, supply supplied with money, have been working in Rumania trying to bring about anarchy and the deposition of the dynasty.

Air Postal Route

Is Private Air

Holland and Belgium are to Be Connected by Branch Line

The Hague. — According to the director general of posts and telegraphs the coming international air post service will not be a government affair but will be left to private initiative, which, if necessary, a government subsidy.

Holland and Belgium, rarely to be connected by a branch line from the first great air postal route from England to India. The British firms which are trying to handle the whole international air post are already negotiating with Dutch firms for carrying mail. It is expected that the Dutch East Indies will also be connected with the grand route by a branch which may extend even to Australia.

Reds Invade Japan

Tokyo. — It is reported that Bolsheviks are daily pouring into Japan to the great consternation of the local police, who are trying by every means to prevent harm by the invaders. It is estimated that there are 300 of these undesirable, each possessed of plenty of money, living in Yokohama and Tokyo. Many of the lumbermen visitors are planning to go to America but are finding difficulty in getting certificates.

Mills May Have to Close

Victoria, B. C. — According to information received by Premier Oliver from credible sources, unless the lumbermen can get new orders within three weeks most of the British Columbia mills will have to close down as they cannot get tonnage for possible British business.

Japan Threatens To Declare War

If China Should Make Public Secret Treaties

Washington. — Japan's attitude toward China in the peace conference is causing grave apprehension among the representatives of the other associated powers. According to official diplomatic information reaching here Japan virtually has threatened war if China makes public secret treaties between the two countries and fails to carry out an agreement to make Japan the successor of Germany in rights, property and concessions held by Germany at the outbreak of the European war. China is relying upon the peace conference, where the delegates are said to have made an excellent impression, and is seeking support from the United States and Great Britain.

Advisers from the Orient through diplomatic channels say American Minister Reisch at Peking, seeking to reassure the Chinese foreign minister with statements of the friendship of the United States government, was told frankly that the foreign minister did not see how at this time the United States or Great Britain could divert their attention to the Orient when the European situation demanded so much attention.

When the Chinese peace delegates arrived in Paris, the information now available discloses, they stated that their copies of the secret treaties were stolen from their baggage while they were passing through Japan, and consequently they were unable to carry out their purpose of making them public at the conference.

Officials of the state department declined to make any formal comment on the situation. The impression was given that the whole matter was being handled in Paris.

Ireland May Follow Canada

Attempt Being Made To Work Out Plan for Unity

Dublin. — For the moment Ireland seems divided into two parties of extremists, one side demanding the overthrow of every vestige of the British rule, and the other demanding the maintenance of the existing system of government, to be varied, if at all, by an actual extension of union principles and the treatment of Irish counties as if they were British ones. An attempt, however, is now being made to tackle the problem in a manner intended to reconcile conflicting interests by working out a plan for unity in diversity, such as obtains in Canada.

A moderate centre party has been formed in Ireland to advocate the solution of Irish home rule through the principle of federalism. Before Ireland swung over to Sinn Fein, the most familiar demand of those Nationalists who were dissatisfied with Mr. Asquith's home rule act was for Dominion home rule. The new Irish centre party, proposes to meet that demand. The scheme has been drafted which in the main follows the Canadian model of 1867. The religious differences between the provinces, it is argued, are no more acute in Ireland than they were in Canada, and the Canadian experiment has been a great success. Ireland is declared by the sponsors for the plan to be large enough to provide for local divisions while maintaining its national unity. There are in Canada parliaments for provinces containing a much smaller population than the smallest of the Irish provinces, and in some cases a much smaller area.

Demands of Allies

Acknowledge That Request for Tabulation of War Equipment Has Been Made

London. — A German wireless communication received here says: "The superior council of the allies demanded from the German armistice administration at Spa on February 10 a declaration of all stocks of war materials available in Germany, and under construction, including guns, airplanes and motors.

"The demand was based on the attitude of the German army administration with the Polish question and the necessity of settling conditions for an extension of the armistice."

Four Russ Factions Join Conference

Paris. — Prospects are brightening for the assembling of at least four of the Russian factions at the conference to be held on Prince's Islands. Word has come from the Ukraine that the government of that former part of Russia, will participate in the conference, and it is reported that the indecision of General Denikine has given way to a desire to join the conference. The government of the Crimea already has accepted the invitation as has the Russian Bolshevik government.

Asserts Submarine Will Ensure Peace

French Engineer Says Abolition Would Leave Cruiser Supreme

Paris. — Criticizing the alleged Anglo-American idea of abolishing the submarine from the world, the eminent French engineer, M. Laubeuf, says that without submarines the French navy would be hopelessly inferior to the Anglo-Saxon navies. The submarine, he maintains, is the only means of counter-balancing the power of the cruiser and its abolition would leave the cruiser supreme.

The argument that submarine warfare should be forbidden because the Germans missed it, says M. Laubeuf, can easily be reduced to absurdity by arguing that artillery should also be forbidden because the Germans missed it in firing gas shells. The truth is, continues the engineer, that the German submarines were useful in legitimate naval warfare as well as in illegitimate attacks as they sank five English cruisers, three French and four English armored cruisers, three French and two Italian cruisers, and also a large number of auxiliary cruisers, patrol boats and transports.

Submarines, contends the French expert, are the only means of defense of small nations against great, and concludes: "If the peace conference wishes to ensure world peace let it begin by abolishing Goliath's club and not David's sling. If submarines are abolished let cruisers also be abolished. Let our delegates make this counter-proposition and see how it will be received."

Japs Will Restore Siberian Railway

Normal Conditions To Assist Russians in Regaining

Washington. — Acting Secretary of State Polk announced that the United States had accepted the proposal of the Japanese government in regard to plans for the restoration of railway traffic in Siberia.

The purpose of the agreement, Mr. Polk's statement said, "is to assist the Russians in Siberia in regaining their normal conditions of life, and have been reached upon a definite understanding that the railways are to be operated for the interest of the people of Siberia. The United States and Japan have expressed their interest in the project not to interfere on any existing right either of Russia, or where the Chinese Eastern is concerned, of China."

Under the plan, which already is being put into effect, the Siberian railway system, which includes the Chinese Eastern railway, is to be supervised by an inter-allied committee, with a Russian as chairman. In addition to Russia, Japan and the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and China have asked to be represented.

Hindenburg Asks For More Troops

Emergency Action Hastened by Increasing Armies of Poland

Berlin. — Conscription of various classes of men up to thirty-five years of age, will shortly be decreed, according to information given here by the correspondent.

The authority in this direction, it is expected, will be given the government by the national assembly in the near future, and it is understood that Gustav Noske, who is mentioned for the post of minister of national defense, will proceed forthwith to adopt the measure needed to re-establish the army and put it on an effective footing.

The recruiting of volunteers, which has been proceeding in haphazard fashion during the past few weeks and which has been stimulated by the Spartacist riots and is chiefly financed by private sources, has failed to achieve results.

A contemplated emergency action has now been hastened by the increasing menace of Poland and more urgent need for forestalling an anticipated Bolshevik invasion.

It would require four well-equipped armies to solve the problems on the eastern border. It is estimated that these corps would aggregate 200,000 men.

Propose Jewish Nation

Paris. — A definite proposal was filed before the peace conference favoring the eventual formation of a Jewish commonwealth in Palestine on the lines already suggested by the American-Jewish congress. The document was signed by representatives of the World Zionist organization, the Zionist organization of America, and the organization of Russia, on behalf of the Jews in Palestine.

Parliament Cannot Now Alter Treaty

London. — George Lambert, in the house of commons, asked whether parliament would have the power to alter the provisions of the peace treaty.

Right Hon. Andrew Bonar Law replied that it was quite impossible that about twenty parliaments should discuss the details of the treaty.

He added that as far as Great Britain was concerned the treaty would not be satisfactory until parliament had expressed an opinion on it.

Mr. Bonar Law's reply indicated that the treaty would have to be ratified or rejected en bloc.

The British delegates at the peace conference have been definitely instructed to claim an indemnity which will include the cost of the war as well as the damage actually caused. It was announced in the house of commons by Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the commons.

This was the reply to a question: A commission is now considering the amount to be claimed, the method by which payment should be made, and the means of enforcing the payment, Mr. Bonar Law added.

Draft Is Adopted

Overwhelming Vote Against Military Body to Enforce Peace

Paris. — The Bourgeois proposition for an inter-allied military force to enforce peace was defeated by an overwhelming vote at the meeting of the society of nations commission. The French and Czech-Slovak were the only representatives voting in the affirmative.

The draft of the society of nations plan was then unanimously adopted as a whole. The final draft consists of twenty-six articles.

President Wilson will personally read the draft to a plenary meeting of the peace conference. The conference will not be asked to finally adopt it at this time.

The Japanese delegation presented an amendment providing that racial discrimination should not be tolerated in immigration laws.

Several delegates urged that this would open such a large question that great delays might ensue, and the matter was dropped without a vote.

Germans Forced to Apologise

British Mission Scored in Incident With Berlin Autocrats

Paris. — The Echo de Paris prints an account of a recent incident in Berlin which might have resulted in the withdrawal of the British peace mission, had an apology not been offered by Count von Brockdorff Rantzau, the foreign minister.

According to the account, the chief of the British mission for the regulation of prisoners, found it necessary to have a conversation with the foreign minister and proceeded to Wilhelmstrasse and sent up his card to Count von Brockdorff Rantzau. The secretary made his appearance and, after excusing the foreign minister, said:

"However, you can tell me the object of your visit, and I shall refer the matter to the secretary of state."

The British officer declined this invitation and brought the interview with the junior official to an end. Immediately afterward he informed General Dupont, the French commander, of what had happened. Later he drafted a telegram to Marshal Foch, requesting that the entire allied mission be recalled. This dispatch had hardly been handed in when Count von Brockdorff Rantzau sent an urgent message to General Dupont, saying the foreign ministry was anxious to see General Dupont in person in order to apologize for what had occurred.

Australia leads the world in the production of wool, with eighty-five million sheep and an export of wool valued in a normal year at $155,000,000.

The book was written by Professor Chas. W. Oman, president of the Royal Historical Society and a professor of history at Oxford University, A. J. Balfour, British foreign secretary, and Earl Curzon, government leader in the house of lords, are understood to have taken an active part in its compilation.

Marshal Foch Will Deal with Germans

London. — With reference to the terms of armistice to be presented to Germany, the Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail says that when these terms are ready, the allies will give notice to Germany, not in a threatening sense, but in order to provide for the presentation of the new conditions.

"With reference to the renewal of Monday," the correspondent states, "it is understood that Marshal Foch has been given definite verbal instructions by the supreme war council to deal on his own authority with any situation created by the Germans, which demands instant action. He will require a strict observance of the demand already made for the evacuation of German Poland by all German troops, thus removing the menace to Poland.

"This form is part of a general undertaking by the Germans not to take aggressive action against the Poles, but their recent behavior has been just the opposite and Field Marshal von Hindenburg has moved his headquarters to Kolberg.

"With the general line of the terms to be embodied in the subsequent renewal of the armistice, Marshal Foch is completely satisfied. The drafting of them is left open to a commission of eight, set up last Monday, which is under the general direction of the Marshal. The drafting will proceed on Foch's return (from Treves) and, it is anticipated, will be completed at the end of this week. It will be ratified by the war council. The terms will limit the size of the German army and the amount of military stores which may be maintained, and they will prescribe where the army corps are to be stationed.

Work of Conference Is Now Nearing End

Paris. — The plenary session of the peace conference held in the famous clock room of the foreign office may mark the conclusion of the first and possibly the most important phase of the work of the world's greatest international gathering. Subjects of great importance are still to come before subsequent meetings, but in the opinion of qualified students of the history of previous conferences the session may reveal that the foundation for the settlement of all questions that will follow has been laid.

The view taken by many delegates early in the conference was that nearly every important subject to be adjusted depended for satisfactory settlement upon the society of nations, which the conference pledged itself at the outset to organize. Thus it became the custom to give a patient hearing to everybody who came to Paris to present the claims of oppressed and dissatisfied peoples, and then refer the claims for justice to the society of nations to be created.

One prominent delegate explains that the conference took the position that to undertake to adjudicate all conflicting claims would be equivalent to creating a court and endeavoring in the act creating it to dispose of every possible case that might come before it for decision.

While the great project of a society of nations is under consideration by the various governments represented at the conference, preliminary to the vote of the conference, through its commissions, is expected to prepare a great mass of material relating to the many subjects that will make up the docket of the society. As soon as the conference has relieved itself of this burden, it is expected to adjourn sine die. It has been said by a highly competent authority that the adjournment would be about June 1,

FARM ARCHITECTURE AND BUILDING

The Real Crisis

As I have already mentioned in former interviews on the building situation, the real crisis in the whole area of building reconstruction is taking place in the next few weeks. Practically all work in factories has ceased, and all trades so engaged have, to a great extent, been thrown on the labor market, especially in the east. If we are to stimulate building, it is highly important that labor and builders get together at once and consider seriously the question of unemployment in these trades. With both standing part, it is creating a situation that calls for prompt action by both classes. Important and extensive plans in the hands of architects are ready and contractors are awaiting a more stabilized labor market and a large number of our returned men, and other labor, whose talents are in the building line, are ready for work. Everyone knows that there has been national stagnation in the construction of buildings during the past five years, and if there are eight to ten million dollars in building construction awaiting capital and labor to put their hands on the table, it would seem that any further delay will seriously affect our economical and industrial position. Premier Norris of Manitoba has intimated his willingness, I believe, to shuffle the cards and give a square deal in the interests of the public, which, if carried out, might bring together a common understanding and get things started. Press despatches in the past few days state that in the United States a drastic plan is being considered, based on a new price-fixing policy that instead of building material and labor gradually declining, be made now and a new upward price as the season advances. Government employment bureaus, business organizations, or patriotic bodies can do nothing under present conditions and all the labor and expense in organization is lost, unless jobs are created through new work being started.

In the industrial reconstruction of Canada, the single item of building is staggering in the immensity of its proposition and its capacity to give employment to trade workers as well as to start subsidiary building material factories. And unless the situation is faced in the same spirit in which the war was, there is likely to be great depression and individual distress among the laboring people. The whole west is watching Winnipeg and whatever progress is made through convalescent meetings here will have a most beneficial result throughout the country. "Conflict" and not "Conflict" should be the watchword, for upon capital and labor came the burdens of war, and upon capital and labor is falling the burden of peace.

Soldiers' Memorials
In some of the smaller urban communities of the province it is being suggested that a suitable soldier's memorial would be a community hall in which tablets with the names of the local men who had served overseas could be set up. It has been suggested that a gymnasium, baths, and a reading room be provided in such halls, as well as accommodation for public meetings and reading and rest rooms, all to be maintained by the town, or village and surrounding district. Memorial hospitals are also proposed in localities not now provided with such institutions.

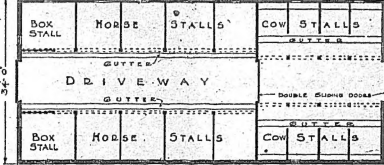

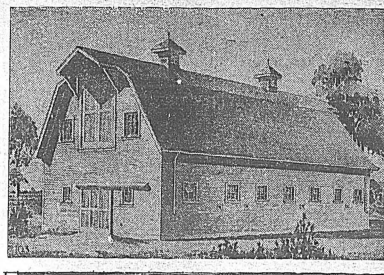

Heart Palpitated
Could Count Every Beat
When the heart begins to palpitate, it will beat fast for several seconds, then slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of water depression will come over your whole system, accompanied by weak, fainting and dizzy spells. When the heart gets into this condition, you become weak, worn out, miserable, and are unable to attend to either social, business or house hold duties.

Autburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief to all sufferers from heart weakness or nerve derangements. Mrs. Walter Greaves, Aspley, Ont., writes: "I was once very weak, but did not help me with your medicines. I could not sleep nights, my heart palpitated so, and I could count every beat."

I used to have such dizzy spells I was unable to do any work for eight months. A cousin of mine had taken Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and told me what they had done for her. I took eight boxes of them, and now I am able to help every day with my work. I am so thankful to tell others what they have done for me, so that they may try this great and wonderful remedy. I hope this may prove good to some one who is suffering the way I did."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A WESTERN BARN

CONSTRUCTION NOTES

The department of public works will erect an extension to the Brandon asylum.

Factory for Brandon
A well known manufacturing firm has announced its intention of erecting a factory and warehouse at Brandon, at an estimated cost of $60,000. It will be built in the trackside district at Eleventh avenue, and work, according to advices received by the board of trade, will be started next week.

Proposed Road Experiments
Regina, Sask.—Experiments in connection with the construction of permanent highways capable of carrying heavy motor truck traffic will be undertaken at two points in the province by the highways department of the provincial government, according to an announcement made in the legislature by Hon. S. J. Latta. The purpose of these roads will be to provide adequate facilities for those communities which are yet remote from railways, and it is proposed to make small permanent bridges part of the scheme.

Bridge for Selkirk
The citizens of Selkirk will make another attempt to induce the federal government to build a bridge over the Red river at that place, the ancient ferry having become inadequate for the ever increasing traffic of the district. It is felt that the government could do worse than include a bridge for Selkirk in its reconstruction program, and the matter will be urged in this light as well as in the light of the public need. The citizens also claim that they are entitled to special consideration from the government, for it was originally intended that the C.P.R. main line should cross the Red river at Selkirk and the town was established and thousands of dollars of private money invested on the strength of the government's plans. Since the abandonment of the plans nearly 40 years ago, all efforts to secure a bridge have failed, the town not being able to build one on its own resources. It is pointed out that a bridge would hasten the development of the district lying east of the river, and would also probably be the means of connecting the street railway with the Grand Beach line when the latter is electrified, as it likely will be in the near future.

The Pas To Have Mining Office

The Pas, Man.—That the mining recording office will remain at The Pas is the advice received from the department. Orders had been given to remove it to Dauphin, but representations were made that this would handicap the mining development. The news was received here with great satisfaction and telegrams of thanks were sent to the minister of the interior.

Strong for Reclamation Work
Lethbridge.—At the best meeting yet held in southern Alberta, the Taber Irrigation project was discussed. The news passed resolution urging the C.P.R. to immediately proceed with the Taber irrigation project for which surveys have been completed. They also urged the Dominion government to undertake, as soon as possible, the larger irrigation scheme southeast of Lethbridge, which will serve a large area. The session of the meeting was strong for the undertaking of as much reclamation work as possible this year.

Tortured For Nearly Two Years

MRS. PLANTE FOUND RELIEF IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

She Tells How They Helped Her Kidney Disease and Made a New Woman of Her.

St. Florence, Que., Feb. 24, (Special).—Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new person of me! The speaker is Madame M.L. Plante, of this place, and her numerous friends are fully verifying her statement. "For nearly two years," Mrs. Plante continues, "kidney disease tortured me. I heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and made up my mind to try them, and to my surprise they did me good almost at once. Two boxes cured me completely. I recommend them to all my friends."

Mrs. Plante is only one of many who have had a similar experience. They were weak and run-down, and sick all over. Dodd's Kidney Pills helped them. How? Simply by curing the kidneys. The diseased kidneys were the cause of all the trouble. They were failing to strain the impurities out of the blood, and the result was pure blood and good health all over the body. The cause of the disease had been removed.

More Schools for Manitoba

Eighty-four Consolidated Schools in Operation in the Province

Though there has been little perceptible increase in the adult population of Manitoba during the last three years, 125 more schools are now in operation in the province than there were at the beginning of that period. The progressiveness of the education department is shown in these increased facilities for education. There are also eighty-four consolidated schools in operation in the province, and preliminary steps have been taken to largely increase this number immediately. Consolidated schools are established by amalgamating adjacent districts and erecting multiple-roomed schools, making possible a higher grade of instruction than is possible in the smaller schools.

How Inflamed Nostrils Stops Catarrhal Discharge Cures Colds Quickly

Poor remedies have given Catarrh the reputation of being incurable. But it is curable, easily and quickly, if the right method is employed. Suffering a powder or ointment up the nose won't cure Catarrh, neither will tablets, snatching, or stomach-medicines cure. These treatments fail because they only affect local conditions. They do not remove the cause, which is germ life established in the mucous, bronchial tubes, and nasal passages.

Ordinary remedies do not reach these remote parts, but Catarrh is cured for it is breathed through the inhaler into every air cell in the lungs. Into every air passage in the throat. No matter where the Catarrh is Catarrhoxone will reach it. It kills the germs, heals sore spots, clears the nose and throat instantly. Universally used; pleasant and effective. Carmen's Messenger

—BY— HAROLD BINDLOSS

WARD, LOCK & CO., LIMITED
London, Melbourne, and Toronto

Foster pondered. He knew that gambling on unused land was popular in Canada, in spite of taxes placed to prevent it, and while there was no respectable real estate agents, the fringe of the profession is occupied by sharpers who prey upon what is fast becoming a national vice. Confiding strangers with money to invest are often swindled, and there was an obvious motive for Ted's trying to cultivate his acquaintance. On the whole, however, he did not think the fellow meant to do him any harm in this way, though he was perhaps willing that Foster should suspect him of such a plan. If so, it might be better to indulge him.

"In a general way, I have a lot of all the dollars I've got," he said. "Still, if I could get a lot that was bound to go up—"

The other followed the lead and talked about city extension and the development of the land. Foster seemed to know his subject, and Foster was beginning to think his suspicions mistaken when he carefully interpolated a few adroit questions about his usual occupation. The questions were difficult to answer without telling the other what was advisable that the other should know, or what was equally to be avoided, showing that Foster was on his guard, and he was now near the end of the line he had resolved on would be difficult.

He had to deal with a clever young man, who probably knew something about him and meant to find out more. In consequence, there was no use in trying to pose as an unsophisticated simpleton; he must, so to speak, play up to the fellow and persuade him that any suspicion he entertained were about the latter's designs upon his money. With this object, he dispensed some of the matter and presently proved a statement of his wrong.

Tedford looked embarrassed, and Foster thought he did it very well. "Perhaps I was putting it a bit too high, but the deal ought to turn out a snap if you can wait a while," he said and laughed. "I'm sure I've got to give you a bedrock fact after the way you caught me. Say, you're pretty smart!"

"You're apt to get stung over a hand deal unless you're careful," Foster modestly replied. "I'm sure you would stop talking business and proposed a visit to a bar. Foster felt mentally exhausted and thought a drink would brace him. He did not see Tedford at dinner and kept out of his way during the afternoon, but the man came into the dining room when supper was served. The room was large and furnished with separate tables, but Foster thought he knew the faces of the regular customers and noticed that a stranger sat at a table by himself.

Tedford was for this table, which seemed natural, since there was most room there, but a few moments afterwards the man came to Foster's table, and he suspected of watching him left his place. Crossing the floor carefully, but in such a way that a pillar hid his approach, he sat down near the other two. Foster admitted that he might not have remarked this had he not been suspicious of Tedford's conduct. The thing looked significant, particularly when a waitress came across, frowning, with some dishes. The man must have had an object for changing his place after he had given his order, because in the small Canadian towns waitresses deal firmly with troublesome customers. Tedford did not seem to know the stranger and did not speak until the man politely handed him a card. He did not say much after this, but Foster could not see him without leaning forward, because some other people sat down between them. Still he felt a puzzling curiosity about the fellow, and after supper went to the rounds where the man presently sat down not far off. He was young and vigorous, and walked with a limp, his leg if one knee was stiff. His eyes were dark and he had a rather engaging smile when one of the rest offered him a newspaper. Tedford was not about, but the other man stroled in.

Foster's curiosity got stronger. He did not remember having met the man, he was studying, but had a vague feeling that he ought to know him. The strange thing was that he had not expected him to limp, but this was perhaps accounted for by his athletic figure. After a time, the fellow put down the newspaper and went off towards the bar, while Foster, who found he had run out of tobacco, went to his room.

When he got out of the elevator, he saw the other going along a passage in front, which he thought curious, because he could not have stayed more than a few moments in the bar. Moreover his limp was not noticeable now he imagined himself alone. Foster went on quietly keeping his distance, and knitted his brows in thoughtful surprise when the other opened a door. The man, who did not seem to know Tedford, had gone into his room.

When the door shut he heard another step and saw, as he had half-expected, the man, who had watched Tedford entering the passage. Foster immediately turned his head and went on to his room, where he sat down in the nearest chair. He had got something of a shock, since he now knew why he had studied the fellow. This brain had been unconsciously occupied with a description. Lucy Stephen had given him. The man who had gone into Tedford's room was Walters.

XXVII
The Mine

When Foster was thinking of going to bed, Pete, whom he had not seen all day, came into the rotunda, and Foster remarked that his boots were very wet.

"It's salt outside and I've been paddling in the snow," he said, and, with a nod, he went to his room, putting his feet out of sight beneath a table.

"Where have you been in the dark?" Foster asked. "I thought I'd maybe better watch the bridge over you bit creek."

Foster frowned. It looked as if he had not met the detective, but work and could only concentrate upon one point at a time. While he had been content to wait what was going on, the other had been watching the bridge; and had found out something. Foster admitted that such success as he had was rather due to luck than to ability.

"Well," he said, "what did you see there?"

"To begin with, the man we followed came down the street and went in to a shop; and I allowed they might be together. I wanted—"

"A basket?"

"Yes," said Pete. "One of 'em cheap baskets you put groceries in when you go by train."

Foster nodded. On Canadian railways, economical shopkeepers, passengers often carry provisions instead of using the meat stations.

"He bought some tinned meat and biscuits," Pete related. "Then some tea and a wee spirit stove."

"There's no train until tomorrow and I imagine the fellow wouldn't be satisfied with canned meat, so long as he could get something better when the cars stopped."

Pete grinned. "I'm not saying he meant to talk the train. It looked like he was going to picknick in the woods."

"Ah!" said Foster abruptly. "I suppose you followed the man?"

"Well," said Pete, "if I was looking for a hide-hole convenient to the town, I'd not find much fault with your side mine. Maybe it's dry, but the frost wouldn't get far in."

Foster started, for he thought Pete had said that the fellow had been camped in the open in colder weather than was often felt in British Columbia, and as wood was plentiful, there was no reason the man should not make a fire after dark, if he could find an outlet for the smoke. He understood how the fellow had hid in the mine, but thought he knew, for vague suspicions suddenly got clear.

"Wireless Lighthouses"
For Flying Pilots

Will Be of Great Value in Foggy Weather

At present, the weather is the great natural enemy of aviation, but before long it will be fully conquered. Two things are needed for victory. One is the multiplication of meteorological stations so that aviators may have fore-knowledge of the weather conditions they are likely to meet on long flights. The second is the use of direction-finding wireless apparatus. This apparatus is a British war product and is at present a secret, but we shall soon learn all about the means by which British inventors were able to provide aircraft with instruments which indicated the distance and direction of wireless stations on land. Aircraft so equipped can fix their position frequently, can report to their base at any moment where they are, what course they are steering and whether they are in any difficulty. Thus the imperative "wireless in" will be an indispensable factor in the organization of long-distance flying. The direction-finding wireless instruments will, of course, be of great value to shipping in foggy weather or when the clouds prevent the steering of a course by the stars.

Soldiers on Farms—Immediate release of all soldiers and sailors in Canada who are required on Manitoba farms is demanded by farmers of the province. A strongly worded resolution to this effect was unanimously passed at the Union of Manitoba Municipalities' convention, Winnipeg, recently. Hon. Arthur Meighen, minister of the interior, declared that in his opinion, the request of the municipalities should be granted, and he will take up the matter immediately on his arrival in Ottawa.

Chance for Naval Men—The department of the naval service has obtained from the marine department a decision to the effect that men serving during the war on ships of the Canadian navy will thereby obtain the necessary qualifications for obtaining certificates in the mercantile marine. The decision recently given will enable a number of men who have served during the war to come up for examination and obtain their navigation certificates.

Should Submit
Terms to People

London.—The view that the terms of peace with Germany should be settled before the organization of a society of nations is dealt with, was expressed in the house of commons by Horatio W. Bostomley.

The speaker declared that the government would lose a large part of its majority if it brought to the house the draft of a peace treaty which had to be accepted or rejected without alteration. The preliminary treaty, he said, should be initiated and then submitted to the people of each country.

Mr. Bostomley said he was not sure that if that were done, President Wilson would find that he spoke with such absolute authority for the United States.

THIS IS AN AGE OF WEAK NERVES

Men and Women Alike Suffer From This Serious Ailment

"No heart for anything" is the cry of thousands of men and women who might be made well and strong by the new, rich red blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make.

Misery day and night is the lot of hosts of men and women who are today the victims of weak nerves. Thin, pale, drawn faces and dejected attitude tell a tale of nervous weakness means being tortured by morbid thoughts and unaccountable fits of depression. These sufferers are painfully sensitive and easily agitated by some chance remark. Sleeplessness, nervousness, loss of energy and strength, their eyes are sunken and their limbs tremble; appetite is poor and memory often fails. This nervous exhaustion is one of the most serious evils affecting men and women of today. The only way to bring back sound, vigorous health is to feed the starved nerves, which are clamoring for new rich blood. This new blood can be had through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which fact accounts for the thousands of cures of nervous diseases brought about by this powerful blood-builder and nerve restorer. Through a fair trial of this medicine thousands of despondent people have been made bright, active and strong, among these is Miss Blanche Chisum, South Beach, Que., who says: "I am a teacher by profession, and I have been obliged to close my school and abandon my duties. I became much run down and suffered from extreme nervousness. The least thing would startle me, and my heart would beat violently. Indeed my condition was an unhappy one. I had often heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a cure for nervous troubles and decided to give them a fair trial. I am happy to say that this medicine completely restored my health, and I can confidently recommend it to all suffering from nervous troubles."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Declare State of Siege

Basel.—A state of siege has been declared at Hamburg, Germany, until the people of that city have surrendered all arms in their possession.

Patrols, demanding these arms, are taking action against those who resist.

Gustav Noske, minister in charge of military affairs in the Ebert cabinet, has telegraphed to the president, saying that he will not take military measures against that city as the soldiers' and workmen's council is restoring order.

Proposed departmental buildings for which plans have been prepared by the Alberta government will not be proceeded with this year. They are to be erected on the capital grounds at Edmonton at an estimated cost of $250,000.

The British Spirit

Generosity for Beaten Foes Is instinctive.

The British race on an imperial scale far back in their history, but never did they manifest it so superbly as on November 21 of immortal memory. Not even the genius of Shakespeare or Aeschylus ever conceived of a setting so vast and magnificent of the whole world as an unseen audience, as it were, or of panoplied might on such a vast scale. But there was little material in the impression given by the unprecedented spectacle in the North Sea. It was mainly spiritual. The soul of the navy, the greatest expression of the soul of Britain, dominated everything. In the hour of its long-delayed triumph its conquest over a deadly enemy was thrown into high relief by its conquest over itself. The vanquished was brought captive to the North in silence. But it might be thought that such restraint was due to discipline. That was not so. For civilians on small craft, which crowded the river as the naval procession entered, were equally restrained. Playing the game of national pride is not sophisticated sense of knowing the right thing to do, but instinctive, springing from a generous heart. The German as a foe wallowed in deviltry, but in the hour of his abasement Britons, naval and civilian, added nothing to it that was not absolutely necessary. Chivalry was out of the question, so was pity. There was nothing but generosity to take refuge in but silence.

Alberta Beef Brings Highest Price

Mannell Brothers, of Macleod, sold their beef a few weeks ago, shipping their choice steers to the Chicago market, where they obtained the highest price yet received for prairie beef. The transaction netted an average of over $180 a head and Mr. Mannell is delighted with the result of his shipping to the stock market in the southern city. The balance was bought by the P. Burns Co. and are being shipped to the Pacific coast markets. Mannell Bros. are noted for their quantity and quality of the beef they prepare for market, and so have many bidders for whatever they have to sell.—Lethbridge Herald.

France Is Grateful

Victoria, B. C.—General Paul Pau, head of the French mission to Canada, in an address before 600 persons at a Canadian club luncheon, told of the gratitude of his country, to the Dominion for her part in the war. He spoke in French, his remarks being interpreted for his audience. The object of his mission, he said, was to strengthen the ties of friendship between France and Canada. Mr. Andre Siegfried, a member of the commission, who also spoke, paid a high tribute to the prowess of the soldiers of the British race.

Heligoland Forts
Must be Destroyed

Fortifications Are of Armored Concrete and Steel

London.—The final armistice terms which the supreme council is considering will be made public before the end of the month, according to various newspapers, and they will include, among the naval conditions, the demolition of the forts on Heligoland and Kiel Canal, the surrender for purposes of destruction of the German warships now interned, and the opening of the Kiel Canal for civil transport. It is stated that Germany will be left with a fleet large enough for defensive purposes.

The naval correspondent of the Daily Mail, writing of the immensely strong fortifications on the island of Heligoland, says:

"The summit of the island is one immense bomb-proof, and the batteries are so placed as to be invisible from the sea. The heavy guns there—11-inch and 12-inch weapons—probably were reinforced during the war by 15-inch guns. The guns are mounted in steel turrets of great thickness. All the batteries and observation posts are connected by subterranean passages and the roads leading up to them run along galleries which are shell-proof."

"The guns are mounted after the usual German fashion so as to give them an immense range, probably from ten to twelve and a half sea miles. To enable the island to stand the concussion of their discharge and resist fire directed against it, £6,000,000 is said to have been spent before 1910, and subsequently other large sums were allotted."

"The immense seaplane sheds are said to have been of the disappearing type, which could be lowered as a protection against long range fire. There are store shops and repair works with all the usual equipment of a naval base. The fortifications presumably will be blown up, but their destruction will be no easy business. They are of armored concrete and steel and a very large quantity of explosive will be required."

"The fortifications at either entrance to the Kiel Canal are of immense strength and are lavishly supplied with the heaviest guns in steel turrets."

And Was Losing Control of Arms and Legs Because of Exhausted Condition of Nerves—Doctor

Said He Could Do Nothing, But Complete Cure Was Effected

Cordova, Man., March 4.—To parents who are anxious or worried about the health of their growing children this letter must prove a message of good cheer. So many cures similar to this one have come to our attention that we are forced to consider Dr. Chase's Nerve Food the most effective treatment available for St. Vitus' Dance and all such conditions which result from nervous exhaustion.

To children who are naturally nervous the strain of school life is often more than they can bear, and the results are seen in headaches, eye troubles, loss of appetite and inability to study. The case of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food at such times soon puts them on their feet and restores health and vigor.

Mrs. Wm. Malt, Cordova, Man., writes: "My little girl, ten years old, was not very well, and I noticed some rather odd ways about her. She used to act very strangely at times. I asked the doctor what could be the matter, and stated she had St. Vitus' Dance; to keep her quiet and out of school. He said treatments weren't any use for her, she was affected in this way for a year. I thought something ought to be done, so in looking over Dr. Chase's Almanac I read some testimonials from people who had used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I sent for six boxes, and used this treatment with my daughter. Before she had finished the first box I could see a great change in her, and by the time she had taken the six boxes she was completely cured. She is real well now, and going to school every day."

"As our daughter of nine has found Dr. Chase's Catarrh Powder very beneficial, and we always keep the Kidney-Liver Pills on hand as a household remedy for backache, etc."

Historical Museum Proposed

For Preservation of Alberta's Records and Relics

Edmonton, Alta.—That a museum be established for the preservation and exhibition of the historical relics and records pertaining to the early development of Alberta, was the suggestion made at a meeting of the Alberta Historical Society, which is about to be reorganized. The provincial government may be asked for some assistance in the way of a grant with which the work can be financed. The idea was supported by the lieutenant-governor, Mr. Brett, who pointed out the desirability of preserving the historical records of both northern and southern parts of the province. The establishment of a society for historical research was also suggested.

At the present time there is no museum of this kind in the province, although there are several splendid collections of relics of the early days, and of the Indian work, which is rapidly deteriorating. It was at one time suggested that the old Ft. Edmonton, situated on the banks of the Saskatchewan south of the legislative buildings, be restored and utilized for this purpose, but in the spring of 1914 the buildings were torn down and the ground upon which they stood leveled in accordance with the scheme of landscape gardening being worked out on the grounds of the legislative buildings.

Victoria, B. C.—Vancouver, B.C., advises report a total of 1,616,157 cases of salmon were packed by the canners of British Columbia, during the season of 1918, being $8,672 more than in 1917. Twenty-one per cent. of the total were sock-eyes and red springs, the balance being of a lower grade fish.

And not only this, but the powders will be certain to exert most beneficial influences in the digestive organs.

The dairy industry in Saskatchewan is assuming large proportions, with a sum of $414,629 invested in plant and buildings, according to a return brought down to the legislative assembly. The estimated value of the co-operative plants is $115,184, of which there are 19. The 19 independent plants have $299,445 in plant and buildings.
